

Service to Ottawa transportation hubs after O-Train Line 1 opens

STARTING OCTOBER 6

Make OC Transpo part of your trip

Airport

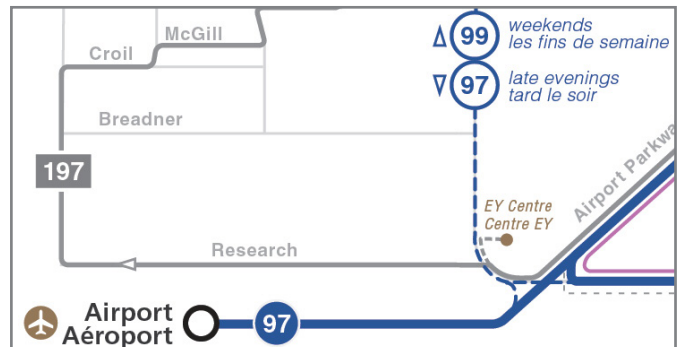

Rapid Route 97

will continue to provide 24/7 service to the airport, connecting with O-Train Line 1 at Hurdman Station for service to downtown. Route 97 also connects with Line 2 at Greenboro Station.

At Hurdman and Greenboro, customers connect to buses inside a fare-paid zone, meaning you don't have to pay a second fare when transferring.

Overnight, Route 97 Night service will continue beyond Hurdman Station to Rideau Station downtown for connections to other Night Routes.

Purchase your fare at the OC Transpo ticket machine, located at Level 1 Arrivals

VIA Rail

Line 1 provides frequent, reliable service through downtown Ottawa to VIA Rail. VIA Rail's main Ottawa Station is located directly on Line 1 at Tremblay Station. VIA's Fallowfield Station in the west end is served by Rapid Routes 74 and 75, which connect at Tunney's Pasture Station.

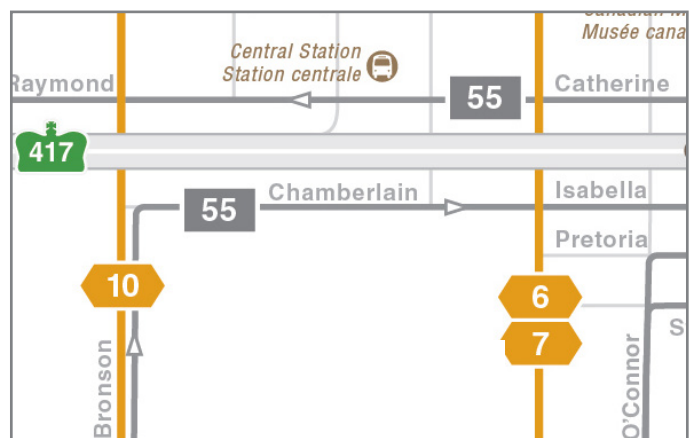

Central Bus Station

Ottawa's Greyhound Bus Station is the main terminal for all intercity buses arriving in or leaving Ottawa.

Routes 6 and 7 provide all-day, weeklong service along Bank Street. Both Routes connect to Line 1 at Rideau and Parliament Stations.

Route 55 (new) provides Monday to Saturday service with connections to Line 1 at Lees Station and Line 2 at Carling Station.
